DRY GOODS.

THE FIRST STORY OF OUR IMMENSE

BUILDING IS UP.

It will now be pushed forward with dispatch. We must prepare for removal. No old goods will be taken into the new store. We intend making it an object for every lady who is now in need, or who is soon likely to be in need of Spring and Summer DRY GCODS, to call and examine the

we are now offering. On account of the backwardness of the season, we are left with too many goods on hand, We have determined to sell them, and sell them we will, as we are bound to raise lots of money to pay for building and to lay in stock for our grand opening, second to none in the country.

We have just reduced all our COLORED DOLLAR SILKS to 75 cents.

Our BLACK PURE SILK RHADAMES, from $1.50 to 95 cents.

25 Pieces most beautiful Patterns of ALL SILI BROCADES, from $1.50 to 95 cents. This is a rare Bargain and cannot be repeated. All our Dress Goods way down to half price.

6.600 Pieces WHITE GOODS of every description. These are of our own importation, having ordered them as far back as last November. We miscalcu lated the quantity and ordered more than our retail trade demands. Therefore, be it known that price shall be no object, and they must go.

We sell a fine VICTORIA LAWN at 8 cents, which is retailed everywhere at 12% cents.

Do not consider this idle talk. Every lady in Wash ington knows the magnitude of our stock, which can safely state is three times as large as the stock of any other merchant in this city. Therefore, prepare for Bargains! As by the time we move into our NEW HOUSE, we expect to reduce the stock to the smallest The Goods are all fresh, having sent all our old trash to New York auction, to be sold to the highest bidder. improvement. THE DEBATE TO-DAY.

at 11:30 o'clock to-day. Mr. Cassidy, of Nevada, opposed the Reagan amendment, requiring the District to pay one-half of the expense of the improvement. He thought the title to the improvement should be vested in the United States, and not be shared with the Dis-trict of Columbia. The proper thing to do was for the government to continue to be the sole proprietor of the water works. Mr. Randall said that while the title to the water works was vested in the United States, the revenues went to the District. He knew there was necessity for more water. On Capitol Hill the necessity for water was sadly felt. He thought, nowever, the District ought to pay one-half. It was a contract between the District and the United States to each pay half of the District expenses, and he did not favor departing from it. The equity and law was on the side of the Reagan amend-

Mr. Cobb, of Indiana, said the proposed increased water supply would be for the benefit solely of the people of the District, and it was right and equitable that they should pay for half of it. Congress, he said, had paid one-half of the interest on the debt, which an extravagant board of public works had saddled on the District, and for future im-provements of all kinds the District should be compelled to pay its half. To ask the United States to pay all of the proposed improvement was neither equity nor justice, and was positive injustice to the constituents of other communities. If the amendment to compel the District to pay one-half did not prevail, he would vote against the

Mr. Buckner said the pending bill proposed the supply of water to the District at the expense of the United States. He thought it was too much of a good thing to ask it.

Mr. Blount was surprised even that the government was called upon to pay half. The District ought to pay it all. ought to pay it all.

Mr. Urner closed the debate on the bill. He said he was surprised at some of the opposition to it. It ought not to be forgotten that the mains, reservoirs, &c., all belonged to the United States, and the District had no interest whatever in them. He quoted a law of 1850 and 1853 directing a whole-He quoted a law of 1850 and 1853 directing a wholesome supply of water to be brought into the District under the direction of the President. had suggested that the people living in the cities where such buildings were to be located should pay should have the title to the water works. It was

"Well, that is some comfort, your honor," said "I think the counsel might have found that comfort before," said Mr. Merrick. SENATOR SAUNDERS A WITNESS.

Senator Saunders was then called to the stand and sworn. The petition from citizens of Nebraska regarding the route from Kearney to Kent (34,149) was handed to him by Mr. Bliss, and he identified an endorsement on the back as having been made by himself. He could not recollect who it was that presented the petition to him. Assuming that the paper was endorsed by him on the 6th of February and presented to the department April 6th, he would not have kept the paper in his possession so long. He did not remember having seen the words "Schedule, thirteen hours," in the petifore the House committee on foreign affairs this tion. He did not write them, and thought if they morning. Chairman Williams called Mr. Blaine's | had been there they would have attracted his at-

AN "EXPEDITION" INSERT IN THE PETITION. A discussion having sprung up as to the relevancy of certain questions, Mr. Wilson re- the French stationed a vessel opposite their conmarked on the nature of the mail service and the absurdity of asking, for instance, for a daily mail on a 48 hours schedule.

Mr. Bliss said the government proposed to show that when the petition was presented by an agent of the contractors it contained no word about expedition, and between the time Senator Saunders placed his name upon it and the time when it was presented to the department, the words asking for expedition were inserted in it. THE NEXT WITNESS

W. Dorsey, on the route from Kearney to Kent. The witness identified a duplicate of the sub-contract produced from the files of the Post Office dedepartment. The terms of the contract were that French was to be paid $700 for one round trip per week; $1,300 for two round trips, $1,800 for three round trips, $3,300 for six round trips per week, and in case of expedition French was to receive 65 per cent of the amount received for such expedition. The witness said the pay of $700 a year was continued till the 1st of August, 1879. Since August, 1879, he had received $1,587.40, as he did not make trips clear through. He received payments from John R. Miner as agent for the contractor. He generally made a trip from Kearney to Loup City in twelve hours, and had never changed the time since he began the service. He had never been directed to expedite his time from Kearney to Loup City, and had never received any 65 per cent for expedition.

The witness said when he began service on the route he employed five horses and two men; from Loup city to Kearney he employed three horses and one man. In August, 1879, when the trips were increased he employed ten horses and three men, two horses being required to go to Cedar-ville. He did not add the horses because it was required in order to carry the mails faster. The witness helped circulate the petition to get an increase of mail facilities on the route. A copy of it was sent to witness by John M. Peck, and witness took it to Mr. T. S. Nightingale, who prepared the copy in court, the original having been blotted by the spilling of a bottle of ink upon it. The words "schedule 13 hours" were not in the petition when witness circulated it or when he gave it to Nightingale. The petition when it came to him was in the same handwriting of the letters he had always received about the service, signed "John R. Miner," his replies being directed to be returned to "Lock Box 714," Washington. Witness was never asked by any of the defendants how many horses were required to carry the mails on the route. The witness had never seen the affidavit of John M. Peck, that 6 men and 14 animals would be required to carry the mail on a schedule of 13

Guiteau and His Counsel.

THE PRISONER STILL HOPEFUL Mr. Charles H. Reed, Guiteau's counsel, had a long conference with his client this morning. Mr. Reed says that Guiteau is cheerful and in good condition. "He said to me," said Mr. Reed 'What's the matter; you look pale?" I told him that I was working hard on his case, and had lost some flesh, when he replied, 'While you are losing flesh I am gaining flesh.'" "Does he not become depressed as the 30th approaches?" asked the reporter.

"No; not at all," said Mr. Reed

"No; he will go to the gallows bravely—if he must go—but he is not hung yet."
"Do you really expect to save him from hanging?" asked the reporter.
"I do. I expect to save him. I may fall, but expect to succeed."

Guiteau to-day wrote the following in regard to published statements that he was not satisfied with Mr. Reed's efforts in his behalf:

TESTIMONY AGAINST MRS. CHRISTIANCY IN THE DIVORCE CASE.—The deposition of Charles E Mowry, of Rhode Island, in behalf of the husband Mowry, of Rhode Island, in behalf of the husband in the Christiancy divorce case, which has been returned to this city, sets forth that he traveled from New York to Aspinwall on the same steamer with Mrs. Christiancy and Haight, and noticed an intimacy between them which was a subject of unfavorable remark among the passengers. His stateroom was in such a situation that as he sat in it he could plainly see the sofa where Mrs. Christiancy was accustomed to lie of an evening. She would lie on the sofa and then disappear, and though they would look around, meither she nor Mr. Haight would be anywhere to be seen. They were together all the time, as near as the witness could find out. She used to be rather slow in coming out of her stateroom in the mornings.

Indians and Cowboys, VIEWS OF COL. FORSYTHE, HERO OF THE LATE ARIZONA CAMPAIGN.

CHICAGO, June 13.—Gen. Geo. A. Forsythe, of the fourth U.S. cavalry, commanding in Southern Arizona, is in this city. In an interview, after narrating incidents of his recent successful campaign against Juh's band of Apaches, he said Secretary Teller's policy in disarming the Indians meets with the warm approval of all officers, and will do much toward preventing outbreaks and Mexico and in portions of Arizona is also doing much to settle the vexed Indian question. The proclamation of the President on the cowboy ques-tion, while somewhat sneered at, has really been productive of much good, although the best citizens of the two territories had combined and with a strong hand put down, in a great many inthe Criminal Court room at 10 o'clock this morning stances, these combinations of thugs. Anarchy in Egypt.

IN THE RIOTS. London, June 13.—A dispatch from Caire to Reuter's telegram Co. says that, according to the engagement between the foreign consuls, Dervisch Pacha, the Khedive and Arabi Pacha, by which the Khedive undertakes to maintain order, meetings and preachings and the hostility of the native press. The arrangement is generally re-garded as rendering Arabi Pacha master of the situation. Reuter's correspondent at Alexandria states that Europeans are leaving there as fast as they can. The consuls have issued a proclamation exhorting Europeans to remain tranquil, and expressing confidence that the army will be able to maintain order. One hundred persons were killed in the riot on Sunday.

LONDON, June 13.-The correspondent of the Daily News at Alexandria telegraphs that the po-sition is a terrible one. Any small force that the fleet could land would only suffice to excite the Arabs to a general massacre. The English man of war Superb came round to the harbor on Sunday at midnight. A report that she was about to lan marines to protect the consulate having spread soldiers directly crowded the beach and the boats of the Superb were ordered to keep off. The pro-portion of Arabs killed in the late riot was insignificant. The Times correspondent at Alexandria telegraphs as follows: That the fleet is almost a source of danger is shown by the fact that when

The Case of Brockway. RELEASE OF THE PRISONER.

As to the case of William E. Brockway, otherwise E. W. Spencer, indicted with Chas. H. Smith, otherwise Smythe, for the embezzlement of plate used in printing the $1,000 bond, Attorney General Brewster held a consultation with District Attorney Corkhill this morning at the Department of Justice, and subsequently a letter was sent to Col. Corkhill directing action in the matter. About 12% o'clock, Col. Guild, of Newark, N. J., Brockway's counsel, had an interview with the di attorney, and shortly afterwards the marshal, on Col. Corkhill's request, made out a release from jail in the name of Brockway, which was sent down by a deputy.

Brockway was released upon his own recognizance. Secretary Folger recommended his release, as it has not been shown that Brockway in any way violated the terms upon which immunity was granted him by Attorney General Devens.

After our report of the proceedings in the House of Representatives on the bill to increase the water supply of the District closed yesterday, Mr. Reagan opposed its passage before steps had been taken to ascertain what the property which it was proposed to condemn would cost the government, proposed to condemn would cost the government, and proceeded to argue in favor of an amendment making the people of the District chargeable with one-half of the expense of the work. Mr. Blount criticised the bill, on the ground that it imposed all the expense of improvement on the general government instead of the people of the District becoming liable for one-half of it. Mr. Speer advocated the passage of the bill, and referred to the fact that children were stekening in the public fact that children were sickening in the public schools of Washington for want of sufficient water supply. Mr. Holman opposed the bill. Mr. Townshend portrayed the necessity of the District for a more adequate supply of water for sanitary pur-poses, and defended the provisions of the pending bill. Mr. Garrison confined his remarks to an advocacy of an amendment which he offered, appropriating $70,000 for the erection of fish-ways at the Great Falls and at the dams proposed to be con-structed by the bill.
